Google Sites zur Webquest-Erstellung

Hier kannst du deine Seite betiteln und die Struktur festlegen die du für deinen Webquest brauchst.

As more students gain access to the Internet, there is growing pressure on teachers to help their students use this valuable resource as an effective study tool

Webquests are just one way in which teachers can help

This is my first one..... enjoy your surfing!

The right sidebar shows the "Pages" section with a list of pages: Home, TOPIC, TASK, PROCESS, RESOURCES, EVALUATION, and CONCLUSION. The bottom right corner of the editor has a plus sign icon for adding new content.
